Taylor, P. Mark; Campbell, Larry; Long, Vena M.
Using Math Attack To Balance the Equation for Middle School Mathematics.

Discusses the development of Math Attack, a project designed to make middle school mathematics engaging, fun, and useful to middle school students by involving them in problems solving. Describes the effect of the project in helping students learn to think and communicate mathematically and helping teachers develop skill and confidence. (ERIC)

Classification: D33
Keywords: instructional improvement; professional development