Summary: The availability of computer algebra systems has become very high. Can this equipment help our students in learning and applying mathematics? Using examples from the classroom, the authors show that the answer is nuanced.

Classification: D33 R23 U53

Keywords: CAS; computer algebra systems; technology integration; computer as educational medium

http://www.uitwiskeling.be/