‘Dig where you stand’. Proceedings of the conference ‘On-going research in the history of mathematics education’, Fjölbrautaskólinn í Gardabæ, Gardabær, Iceland, June 20–24, 2009.

Reykjavík: University of Iceland, School of Education (ISBN 978-9979-793-99-1). vi, 254 p. (2009).

This book contains selected contributions presented at the title-mentioned conference. It was the first time that an international conference was exclusively devoted to the research in the history of mathematics education. The papers deal with the following issues: Reflections on methodology; interdisciplinarity and contexts of mathematics teaching; the internationalization of education with particular reference to ICMI; teaching of geometry; the movement of modern mathematics; movements in the development of mathematics education in specific countries; transmission to another country; teaching practice. The separate contributions of this volume will be reviewed individually.
