Summary: This article highlights a project that encourages students to connect reading and mathematics instruction by using a data analysis approach. Students analyze sonnets from statistical, literary, and historical points of view in an effort to uncover the true identity of William Shakespeare. (Contains 10 figures.) (ERIC)

Classification: M93 K43

Keywords: interdisciplinary approach; literature; data analysis; poetry; language arts; literary genres; secondary school mathematics; statistical analysis