Specification of problems solved by means of a spreadsheet calculator. (Špecifikácia problému riešeného tabuľkovým kalkulátorom.)

Mat. Fyz. Inform. 15, No. 2, 104-112 (2005).

The authors present a solution to the problem about captured soldiers described by Josephus Flavius and demonstrate how different interpretations of one text lead to mistakes and misunderstandings. Thus a computer program can fail or provides results which do not correspond to our expectations. A spreadsheet calculator is used for solving the problem.
