ZMATH 2005e.02161
Pogrow, Stanley

The author shares a decade’s worth of experience in developing an approach to teaching math to upper-elementary and middle school students that simultaneously increases basic skills, improves problem solving, raises test scores, and sparks student interest in math.

Classification: D43
Keywords: teaching methods; lower secondary