

ZMATH 2004b.01866

Creme, Phyllis; Lea, Mary R.

Writing at university. A guide for students.

Open University Press, Maidenhead (ISBN 0-335-21325-1). 195 p. (2003).

The book helps students to understand what writing at university is all about, and provides them with methods and approaches they can use to gain more control over their academic writing. The book tackles the fundamental questions: What is expected of students in university writing? What can students do to develop and build confidence in their writing? How can they address the variety of written assignments they will encounter in their studies? Both traditional essays and other kinds of writing are covered. For the second edition the book has been completely updated, and there is new coverage of report writing, learning journals, electronic writing, and using the Internet.

Classification: U95 C55