Internet-savvy students.

Phi Delta Kappan 84, No. 5, 343-407 (2003).

Describes national study of the attitudes and behaviors of middle and high school students who use the Internet. Finds that Internet-savvy students use the Internet as a virtual book and reference library, a tutor and study shortcut, a study group, a guidance counselor, and a locker, backpack, and notebook. Offers several explanations about the nature of student Internet use. (PKP)
