

ZMATH 2003f.04697

Gordon, Edward E.

Looking beyond the stereotypes: Ensuring the true potential of tutoring.

Phi Delta Kappan 84, No. 6, 456-459 (2003).

The No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB) provides additional funding for supplemental services including after-school tutoring. Presents information to help parents choose qualified tutors for their children. Includes a list of specific questions parents can ask in screening potential tutors or tutoring programs. (See also 'Parents Guide to Supplemental Services' at <http://nclb.gov>.) (Contains 13 references.)

Classification: D43

Keywords: after school education