Summary: This article deals with an issue of logical thinking of primary school students. We present results of an experiment from this field. Pupils were asked to solve different syllogisms. According to their answers we analyzed their thinking processes and classified them by certain phenomena. In the end we show possibilities of further research.

Classification: E32 E52 D52
Keywords: logical thinking